

The Patterson Club – Fairfield, Connecticut

General Manager

The Patterson Club is a full-service country club located on 152 acres in Fairfield County, Connecticut an hour northeast of New York City. The Club debuted in 1929 as a dining club in Bridgeport, CT and in 1946, re-located to its current location in Fairfield, CT. The Club was owned by General Electric until 1968. Robert Trent Jones was hired to design the course on 163 acres perched 200 feet above Long Island Sound – five miles to the south. Over the past 20 years, numerous course improvements have been made including extensive drainage work, a tree management program and the re-skinning of all eighteen greens that have greatly contributed to the development of The Patterson Club as one of the most challenging, respected and best-conditioned golf courses in New England. The par 71 course measures 6,824 yards and hosts approximately 20,000 rounds annually. A new 56,000 square foot “neo-classical farmhouse” style clubhouse was completed in 2010.

Additional amenities include formal and informal dining, an Olympic size swimming pool, seven Har Tru tennis courts, four paddle courts, professional-owned golf shop, professional-owned tennis shop and Junior and adult programs are offered in golf, tennis swimming and paddle.

The clubhouse is open year round with the exception of six weeks from December 24th until mid-February. Private function space can accommodate up to 240 guests. Annual gross revenues exceed $6.5 million and food and beverage sales are approximately $1.6 million. During the height of the season, there are approximately 150 employees.
