

Hillcrest Country Club – Boise, Idaho

General Manager

Opened in 1940, Hillcrest Country Club is the premier golf and country club in the capital city of Boise, Idaho. From its location, the Club looks north towards the Boise mountain range in Boise National Park. Hillcrest Country Club has a rich golfing history and has played host to the Web.com tour's Boise Open since its inception twenty-eight years ago, furthering its legacy of golf and providing charitable contributions to the greater Boise community. The Club hosts many of the community's premier events including the Albertson's Boise Open.

Settled within southwestern Idaho's Treasure Valley, Boise is a picturesque city offering activities throughout the four seasons. Hiking, skiing, rafting, mountain biking and camping are all a part of the active lifestyle of the community. While Boise is the 3rd largest metropolitan area in the Pacific Northwest behind only Seattle and Portland, it retains the charm of a small city framed by the surrounding mountains and river greenbelt winding through the city center. It has made many "Best Places to Live" lists including those of Sunset Magazine, U. S. News and Liveability.com. Boise offers an impressive mix of education, culture, corporate headquarters, tech and tourism along with its four seasons lifestyle.

Renovated in 2011, the 38,000 square-foot clubhouse is open year-round and features three à la carte dining rooms, banquet spaces, fitness, and men's and ladies locker rooms. The Club offers a junior Olympic-size pool, six tennis courts (hard surface), a children's activity room, and a snack bar serving the pool area. Gross revenues are projected to be over $5.4 million with food and beverage revenues accounting for $2 million. The Club has active family programming and offers food and beverage services daily with the exception of Mondays. There are 600 members.
