Finlen is a prominent leader in the club industry with 36 years of experience in golf operations and private club operations. For over three decades, he has managed exclusive private clubs in various leadership capacities, mastering the core disciplines of Club Management including Agronomy, Golf operations and Club Management, a rare accomplishment only a small group of Club Managers have achieved. Finlen’s professional background includes ascending through the ranks at The Olympic Club in San Francisco, California, one of America’s most iconic clubs with a premier city club and top 100 golf course. During his tenure from 2002 until 2019, Finlen served as the Club’s Director of Golf Course Maintenance Operations, Director of Golf, and was named General Manager in 2013. He also negotiated the contracts for the 2023 US Woman’s Open, The 2028 PGA Championship, and the 2032 Ryder Cup for the Club.

“We are excited to welcome Pat to the team,” said Dan Denehy, President of DENEHY Club Thinking Partners. “I have known Pat since my Firm conducted the general manager search for The Olympic Club in San Francisco. I knew then what I know to be true today--he is a rare talent and a remarkable industry leader. I am confident his unique and considerable expertise will benefit our clients in a multitude of ways.”

Prior to The Olympic Club, Finlen was a Golf Course Superintendent from 1984 - 2002 in Kansas City, Virginia Beach, and Monterey, California. “I am thrilled to be joining the CTP team and look forward to contributing to the firm’s exemplary executive search and consulting services,” said Pat Finlen. “I’m eager to hit and ground running to service current and future partner Clubs on the West Coast and nationwide.”
